WELCOME TO ASQ!

As a dedicated early childhood professional, you know how critical the first five years of life are. The sooner you catch a delay or disability, the sooner you can help connect kids with the services and supports that make a real difference. That's why you'll love ASQ—the developmental and social-emotional screeners professionals have trusted for more than 15 years to pinpoint delays as early as possible.

Professionals like you love ASQ because it's everything you want in a screener: highly valid, reliable, accurate, cost-effective, and easy to score in just minutes.

Parents love ASQ because it relies on their expert knowledge and makes them full partners in the screening process. It's also a great way to bond with kids and learn more about their development.

Children love ASQ because it's just plain fun. Some questions are quick activities, so screening feels like playtime.

Experts love ASQ because it's been researched and tested with an unparalleled sample of diverse children. Organizations such as the American Academy of Neurology, First Signs, and the Child Neurology Society all identify ASQ as a high-quality screener. ASQ was also favorably reviewed in articles appearing in the American Academy of Pediatrics journal Pediatrics in Review and the Buros Mental Measurements Yearbook (see www.agesandstages.com for article information).*

SCREENING ▶

With the parent-completed ASQ, screening is a snap. Here's what you do:

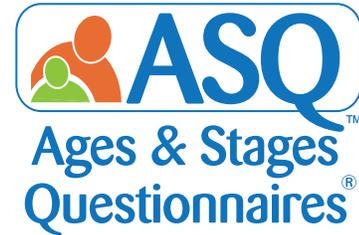

- Choose your screener—ASQ-3™ for developmental screening, ASQ:SE for social-emotional screening
- Choose your language—English or Spanish
- Choose the right ASQ questionnaire for the child's age
- Give it to the parent—in person, by mail

That's all! Then the parent completes the fun and fast screening in about 15 minutes. The parent tries activities with the child and/or answers quick questions about the child's abilities. Scoring couldn't be easier—it takes just 2-3 minutes

If you complete a paper questionnaire, you can score it by hand. Once you're done, a quick review of the summary sheet shows you if any further assessment is needed.

SHARING RESULTS ▶

Once you've reviewed the results of ASQ, share what you learned.

The User's Guides give you helpful hints on partnering with families, and the online data management system generates customizable letters perfect for sharing key information with parents and other professionals.

If no further assessment is needed, give parents the ASQ Learning Activities—fun, fast, and inexpensive games and interactions that correspond to the developmental areas in ASQ-3™.

If results show that further evaluation is needed, the User's Guides give you helpful tips on making referrals and connecting children with follow-up assessments.
